HELGA FJELSTAD

Miss Helga Fjelstad is pictured here with her large family. We classify the Concordia College Student Body as her family because she sees to it that they get plenty to eat. For 32 years Miss Fjelstad has served as matron at the college. No wonder she means so much to all who are affiliated with the institution. She is the grand old lady of the campus. Old in years of service, but young at heart. A lady whose character, personality and life of faithful ser-vine has been an inspiration to many.

To provide three meals a day and banquets on special occasions for the Concordia College Student Body is no small undertaking. Visit the kitchen any time during the school year and you will be impressed with the orderliness, the cleanliness and the efficiency with which the work is carried on. This is due for the most part to Miss Fjelstad's successful management.

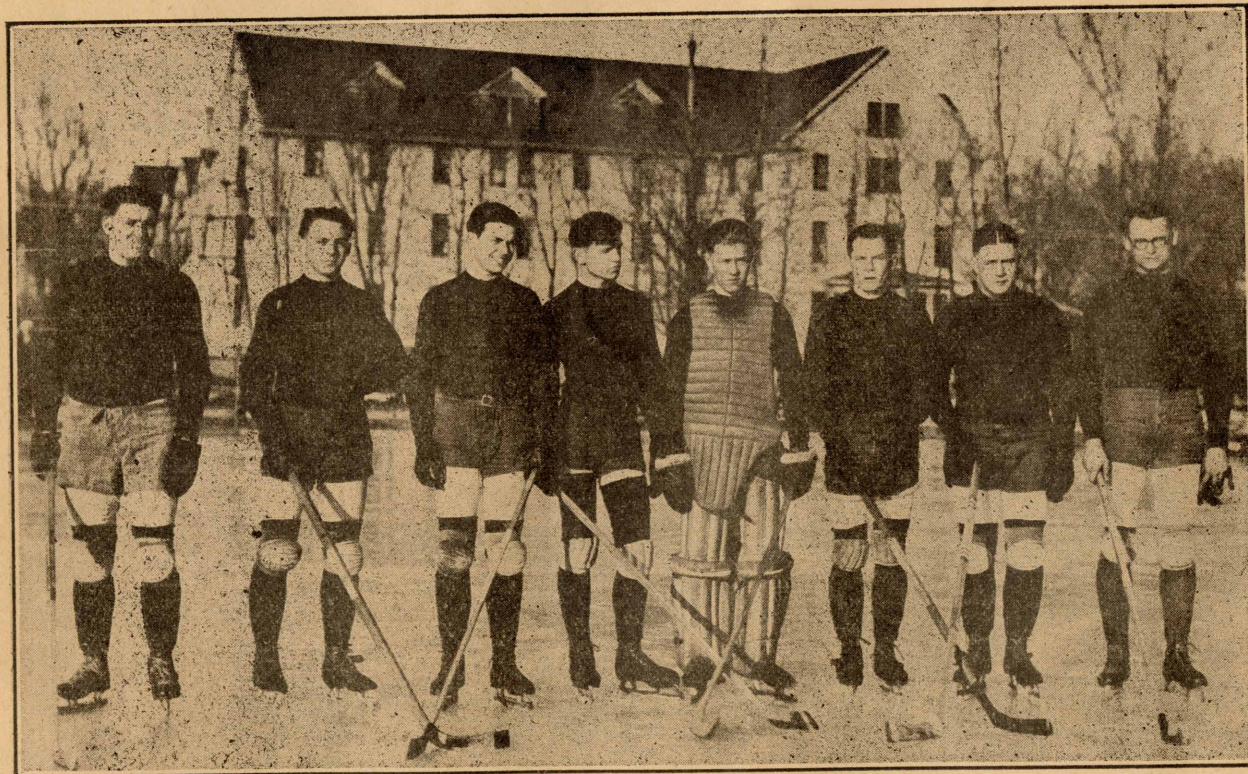

All the pastry the students eat is made at the college. Delicious, fresh, home-made bread is always on the tables in abundance. It is the consensus of opinion among the students and faculty that the board at the college is exceptionally good.

In speaking with Miss Fjelstad about the matter she says: "If the students don't get good things to eat then they can't do good work in the class room, that's why we feed them so well."
