

A Souvenir of the Southwestern
Minnesota Hospital, Heron Lake

FROM O. M. NOBLE
COLLECTION

THE Southwestern Minnesota Hospital, Heron Lake, Minn., has a capacity of fifty beds. It is the oldest and largest private hospital in this part of the country, planned and built for the purpose it is used. It is now ten years since we first settled and started to build this hospital. We have passed through the periods of ridicule, abuse and imitation, as every successful business must. Being the pioneers in the hospital business in this section, we hold the honor of being the largest private hospital in the northwest, with a capacity of fifty beds, averaging twenty-five patients continuously, mostly all of which are surgical cases. The hospital is owned and operated by Mrs. Fannie Moe, a registered nurse of fifteen years' surgical experience, and Sister Carrie Sorenson, a registered nurse of sixteen years' experience, with ten other graduate and under-graduate nurses. We send graduate nurses out to private cases anywhere. Our aim is to serve our patrons to the best of our ability for a reasonable price.

Yours for service,

MRS. FANNIE MOE, Registered Nurse,
Superintendent.
